THE VENUE OF THE CONGRESS

Gran Guardia Palace

Piazza Bra, Verona

Building started in the first half of the 17th century, in the baroque style, and it was designed to counterbalance the arena. Due to a short age of funds the work was interrupted, only to be completed (along with the steps) two centuries later in 1836.

The edifice was initially built by Domenico Cartoni, a pupil of Sanmicheli, for military purposes – on rainy days troops could also be reviewed under the building’s wide porch.

It has recently been restored and is now an important convention centre hosting exhibitions, cultural events and fairs.

THE CITY OF VERONA

Verona is one of the most important cities in Veneto. It is well known for its artistic and architectural beauties. Thanks to its history the city centre was listed by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site.

ONE OF THE POSSIBLE ITINERARY

Starting from Verona railway station, along Corso Porta Nuova: you will easily reach the heart of the city, Piazza Bra, with the monumental Arena. The Romanic Anfiteatro is one of the most ancient and best-preserved of those existing, and it's now the charming venue of a famous Opera season. Give at least a glance at the great palaces Gran Guardia and Barbieri and take for the Liston, a characteristic wide pavement on that goes through piazza Bra and brings to via Mazzini, a street with plenty of shops, bars and restaurants. On arrival at the end of via Mazzini you will be surprised to find a very peculiar dwelling: the very famous Casa di Giulietta (Juliet's house). At this point you will certainly have a feeling for the city fascinations: the inner town streets hold unexpected sights and ancient buildings, churches, and dramatic views of bridges and monuments.

A few more steps and you will find yourself in Piazza delle Erbe, the square where the city market has been taking place for centuries. The square is surrounded by some extraordinarily interesting buildings: the Domus Mercatorum, the Gardello Tower, Maffei Palace and Case Mazzanti (a huge completely painted "a fresco" house). Pass over the Arco della Costa, and see the beautiful Piazza dei Signori, that used to be, together with the adjacent Piazza delle Erbe, the venue of government palaces in Middle ages and it's now a very appreciated meeting place, where social and cultural events are set almost every day. Very close to Piazza dei Signori are the Arche Scaligere, monumental graves of Signori della Scala, Lords of Verona straddling the XIII and XIV centuries, situated in front of the Church of Santa Maria Antica.

VERONA CITY SIGHTSEEING

With Verona City sightseeing you will have the opportunity to join the tour at any stop, listen to the commentary in one of the seven languages available or reach any other bus-stop on the route and see all the best sights and attractions that the city offers.

CHURCHES AND MUSEUMS

In Verona there are several churches of great historic and artistic value. The most famous is the Basilica dedicated to San Zeno, held as a Romanesque masterpiece. Rather inspired by Gothic is Sant'Anastasia Church, which is home to some famous Pisanello's and Altichiero's "frescos". Remarkable too, the Dome (Santa Maria Assunta Cathedral) and San Fermo Church, rare because of the four naves division, in its lower part.

Following is a short overview on the main museums:

- AMO - Arena MuseOpera

The mission of the Arena Opera Museum is to restore true value and spread Italian Opera Culture around the world, with a display of original documents using the latest multimedia methods. The main concept of the new Museum is to lead the visitors along the amazing creative itinerary through to the final staging of the opera: drafting the libretto, writing the score, designing the scenes and costumes, the first sketches of the theatrical performance, preparing the singers and finally the staged performance.

- "Achille Forti" Gallery of Modern Art at Palazzo della Ragione

The Gallery of Modern Art "Achille Forti" encourages study, dissemination of modern and contemporary art culture and the promotion of city collection from works of the nineteenth and twenty-first century.

- Castelvecchio Museum

It is in Castelvecchio fortress, an imposing building of the Middle Ages. The exhibition is hosted in about thirty rooms and it is divided into sculpture, Italian and foreigner painting, ancient weapons, ceramic ware, jewels, miniature paintings.

The old town bells are also on view.

- Juliet's grave and Museo degli Affreschi

The museum is hosted inside the monastery of San Francesco al Corso. Visitors can admire cycles of frescos from Veronese medieval buildings in the sixteenth century, and nineteenth century sculptures, while the church of San Francesco hosts works on canvas of great dimensions ranging from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century. Inside, a crypt, under the church of San Francesco, lies an empty, simple sarcophagus made of red Verona marble. It is believed to be the grave where finally rested the legendary Veronese Lovers.

- Museo Lapidario Maffeiano

This is the oldest public museum in Europe. It hosts an important collection of memorial and funeral epigraphs.

- Teatro Romano and Museo Archeologico

In the numerous exhibition spaces a large range of archaeological finds is displayed, like sculpted and decorative pieces coming from the Romanic Theatre, mosaics, votive and funeral stones, altars, epigraphs, sculptures, glass, pottery etc. Entrance ticket to the Museum includes also the visit to the Theatre.

TOURISM

GARDA LAKE

If the weather is fine, and you need to take a break from business, is there anything better than a journey to the lake? The villages around Garda lake are popular tourist destinations, visited every year by hundreds of thousands of people.

The surroundings of the lake are the ideal place to do several activities: the stretch of water is perfect for windsurf, canoeing, scuba diving or having fun on a recreational boat. Alternatively you can just sunbathe or have a reinvigorating swim.

The next up-country is also good for cycling, golf, horse-riding and much more. Moreover in proximity of the lake there are several natural reserves, amusement and water parks.

LESSINIA

Lessinia landscape is made very special by its natural beauties and historical statements. It is a wide highland covered with woods and pastures, located for the most part in the provinces of Verona and Vicenza. The countryside has exceptional geological features and it is also rich of a large variety of rare plants. There you can also find picturesque towns with stone-roofed houses, made by the former inhabitants of this area.

In 1990 it was established the Regional Nature Reserve of Lessinia, created with the aim to protect its historical, archaeological and natural richness, and to preserve all the aspects of a very appreciated destination for excursions on foot or by cycle.

VALPOLICELLA

Valpolicella, famous for the production of its excellent wine (Valpolicella, Recioto della Valpolicella and Amarone above all), is geographically a body of small valleys, gently sloping towards the hills behind Verona. Blessed by a mild climate, the landscape is made up of low rolling hills, fully by vineyards, olive and cherry tree groves and passed through by widespread sources.

Besides, an high interest is raised by the numerous villas, ancient churches and small stone built villages.

SOAVE

Soave area is well-known as well for its wines: Recioto di Soave (a white wine) in particular has been the first wine to obtain DOCG certification (a warrant mark guaranteeing its high quality and its link with the origin area). It is a classic dessert wine, with digestive properties, ideal for dining accompaniment such as cream desserts, pastries (as "Pandoro di Verona" cake), blue cheeses and pâté.

The territory has also an historic importance. The town still maintains a middle-age structure, with an intact boundary wall climbing up the hill above, where the Scaligero Castle stretches skywards.

In September, on the occasion of the grape harvest, many events like grape fests or historical re-enactment, are scheduled.
